MODULE INFORMATION (OVERVIEW OF SYLLABUS)

The syllabus content is subject to change to accommodate industry changes. Please note that a more detailed syllabus is available at the Department or in the study guide that is applicable to a particular module. At time of publication, the syllabus content was defined as follows:

C

COMMUNICATION FOR ACADEMIC PURPOSES (CAP105X)

1 X 3-HOUR PAPER

(Module custodian: Department of Applied Languages)

A workable knowledge of English is an essential skill for any graduate who is required to conduct themselves successfully in a professional working environment. This module will equip students with the competencies required to compose a selection of written texts related to communicating both internally and externally within a professional environment. In addition, the module includes strategies that are essential for the effective communication in various situations, including small groups to avoid unproductive conflict, a multicultural context, etc. (Total tuition time: not available)

COMPUTER LITERACY (CPL105X)

CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT

(Module custodian: End User Computing Unit)

Students have to acquire foundational knowledge in computing fundamentals, essential digital skills in key applications based on MS Office Suite and network basics (i.e. MS Outlook and Internet). Students will do online exams that are mapped with SAQA. (Total tuition time: not available)

E

ECOLOGY I (ECO115D)

1 X 2-HOUR PAPER

(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

To introduce the student to the most important zoological and botanical taxonomic and morphological characteristics, life cycles, adaptations, and ecological importance of invertebrate and vertebrate animals. In addition, the student will be introduced to ecological principles as they affect the individual organism in the environment as well as the ecological co-actions, which occur within and between populations. The module will be assessed through integrated assessment strategies, and will contribute to the promotion mark of the qualification. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOLOGY II (ECO216D)

1 X 3-HOUR PAPER

(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

To introduce the student to the most important abiotic and biotic components of all regions of the planet. Specific reference to functioning and classification of regional and local savannah and grassland. Further the integration of people to the environment – the rise and history of conservation and South Africa's current conservation estate, role players and international obligations. Finally, the South African model of environmental compliance in development. The module will be assessed through integrated assessment strategies, and will contribute to the promotion mark of the qualification. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM DEVELOPMENT I (ECD105D)

1 X 2-HOUR PAPER

(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

Ecotourism is a sub-sector of tourism. In order to understand ecotourism development, it is firstly important to have an appreciation of the wider tourism context. This module commences with an introduction to tourism, including tourism definitions, the tourism conceptual framework, history and growth, economic value, and influences on tourism demand. Subsequently, students are introduced to ecotourism – its definition, evolution and growth, different types of ecotourism, and an overview of ecotourism supply and demand. The growth in ecotourism supply and demand ultimately has impacts on the host community, both environmentally, socially and economically; such impacts are analysed in detail. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM DEVELOPMENT II (ECD206D)1 X 2-HOUR PAPER*(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

Despite its key principle of 'sustainability', the diversity in ecotourism demand and supply has led to negative environmental, economic and social impacts. In order to mitigate such negative impacts and maximise the positive impacts, visitor planning and management is imperative. In this module, students will learn of, and evaluate, the different visitor planning and management approaches that can be employed towards the promotion of sustainable ecotourism destinations. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM DEVELOPMENT III (ECD306D)CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT*(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

Community-based tourism (CBT) is a form of tourism that essentially allows visitors to connect more closely to the communities that they visit. More specifically, it has been recognised as an approach aimed at facilitating the development of disadvantaged communities, particularly in rural areas; many rural areas form ecotourism destinations. In this module, students will be exposed to different CBT models and examples of best practice in southern Africa. Students will also be able to apply the guidelines for the development of successful CBT. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM FINANCE I (ECF205D)CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT*(Module custodian: Department of Finance and Investment)

The student learns to develop fundamental knowledge of financial principles that are essential in the operation of an ecotourism establishment. It lays a foundation that is needed for the application of financial skills as well as providing students with a thorough knowledge and understanding of Account/Finance. The module will cover basic accounting terminology as well as recording of transactions, basic foreign exchange calculations as well as basic budgeting of a tourism business. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM GEOGRAPHY I (ETG105D)CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT*(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

Students develop knowledge and understanding of the field of geography, and appreciate the relevance of a physical and/or human geographic perspective in the analysis of real world problems. It includes geography for tourism, South Africa, Southern Africa and the Indian Ocean Islands. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM GEOGRAPHY II (ETG206D)CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT*(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

Students develop knowledge and understanding of the field of geography, and appreciate the relevance of a physical and/or human geographic perspective in the analysis of real world problems. It includes geography for tourism and European ecotourism major destinations. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM GUIDING I (ECU105D)CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT*(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

A module designed to foster an appreciation and sustain both natural and cultural environments, the well-being of the local people, and involves interpretation and education. The module aims to empower the student (the ecotourism practitioner) with the knowledge and techniques to communicate effectively with target groups. These target groups include ecotourists, various personalities, cultures, ages, senior and junior colleagues, in a variety of environments and circumstances. The module also involves identification and explanation (interpretation) of some of the most commonly encountered features in natural and cultural destinations. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM GUIDING II (ECU205D)CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT*(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

Culture and nature guiding - students will acquire knowledge for both nature and culture guiding. The tour guiding knowledge and skills are key requirement to guide in cultural and/or natural environment within South Africa. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM HUMAN RESOURCES I (ECH215D)1 X 2-HOUR PAPER*(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

To equip students with the necessary recruitment and selection abilities. The students will learn concepts such as labour markets, equal opportunities and managing diversity, performance management and appraisal, health and safety in the workplace, grievance and disciplinary procedures as well as reward strategies in Adventure tourism. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM MANAGEMENT I (ETM105D)1 X 2-HOUR PAPER(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

To prepare students to initiate new ventures and evaluate their own position and endeavours within the Ecotourism sector. More specifically, to effectively allocate, manage and control resources associated with an adventure, it will provide students with the required knowledge and skills to effectively use all management functions (as planning, leading, organising and controlling) within the adventure environment. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM MANAGEMENT II (ETM306D)CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)

To provide students with appropriate knowledge, skills and attitudes to enter front office management positions in a lodging industry with proficiency in the areas of management of service, sale of guestrooms, technical operations, as well as thorough knowledge of professional and administration skills. Waste management and greening of front office are included to direct the student to the practice of decreasing carbon footprint of the lodging industry. (Total tuition time: not available)

ECOTOURISM MARKETING I (ECK115D)1 X 2-HOUR PAPER(Module custodian: Department of Tourism Management)
